Anak Muda Mencorak Masa Depan Negara

Young Generation to Shape Future Nation

Sudah tentu, TN50 adalah lebih besar daripada sekadar sains. Perbincangan perlu termasuk bagaimana negara akan berurusan dengan masalah belia bandar, migrasi penduduk, pencemaran alam sekitar, integrasi sosial dan pelbagai isu lain yang berkaitan dengan kesejahteraan negara secara keseluruhannya.

Penglibatan semua anak muda untuk dialog atau wacana nasional ini nanti mesti membabitkan semua golongan muda, termasuk murid di peringkat sekolah lagi. Hal itu kerana apa juga perancangan dan dasar yang mahu dilaksanakan dalam tempoh 30 tahun akan datang pastinya membabitkan mereka secara langsung samada sebagai golongan pelaksana atau mereka yang perlu melalui nanti.

Sukia juga saya melihat akan kualiti guru yang perlu dimantapkan menerusi latihan yang berterusan supaya mereka dapat membangunkan modal insan yang memenuhi agenda TN50 iaitu generasi muda yang cemerlang dalam tempoh 30 tahun akan datang bagi meningkatkan martabat bangsa dan negara di peringkat global.

The 2017 budget which was announced on October 21, 2016 has introduced a new element to draw a new paint on the country’s future. Being coined N50, the idea was well received and considered timely.

Many concede the idea that we need a new goal for country’s “Wawasan 2020” in order to ensure continuity in the process of building Malaysia to be a developed nation. N50 intends to continue planning for the future of the country following the vision of “Wawasan 2020”. It is a platform and opportunity for all young people, regardless of race, background, etc. to be able to give their best input on the idea of forming a nation state in 2050.

Dialogue or discourse at the national level would make the perfect ground for the target group i.e. the youth to assist the government in formulating guidelines and best policies for them and their future generations. Hence, within this context, we hope that their minds and thoughts will not be impelled by any non-developing elements.

They should present themselves in the discourse or dialogue well-prepared with fresh ideas and open minds.

It is agreed that N50 would not be all-encompassing if the discourse with the youth does not include the element of science including research and development (R&D). As this country is still struggling to bring solutions to many issues and matters related to science, this would be most beneficial.

Indeed, the discourse on N50 is much more than just about science and education. The discussion should be able to discuss and figuring out how the future country will deal with the many problems related to urban youth, migration, environmental degradation, social integration and other issues related to the welfare of the country as a whole.

The involvement of all young people in this national dialogue or discourse must involve all young people including school students and the undergraduates. This is because any plans and policies that would be implemented later within the next 30 years would have them being directly involved either as a single performer or as a group of people or a team.

I would be very delighted to see the process of strengthening the quality of our teachers through ongoing trainings in order for them to develop the human capital that meets the N50 agenda. This is the vision to produce excellent young people in the next 30 years who will raise Malaysia to a higher standard in the global arena as a well-developed nation state.

Kemenangan Trump resahkan dunia

Trump's victory shudders the world

The author had the opportunity to monitor POTUS election in 2012 for three weeks and recently represents MBMS to US Embassy in Kuala Lumpur at J.W Marriot Hotel in conjunction with the announcement of POTUS election between MBM and the US Embassy in Kuala Lumpur at J.W Marriot Hotel in conjunction with POTUS which was somewhat murky during the time this article was written. Trump has yet to name the Secretary of State who will lead the US State Department, which acts as a critical policy maker. This would be the most awaited event as it will reflect Trump’s character and attitude towards the outside world particularly the Muslim World. Foreign Policy magazine is expecting that Trump will bring the mindset of 911 back to the world with the agenda of “War on Terror” dominating the plan.

Trump does not reflect the aspirations of inclusivity and multiculturalism as it is an agenda of many of other Neo-Conservative figures. At the time this article was written, White Supreme was still the major focus in the USA as the idea of placing Syrian refugees in the United States may come to an end. Some only foretells that Trump’s victory will not change any under POTUS is its foreign policy. Israel is certainly pleased with Trump’s victory as will strive to recover its relationship with POTUS which was somewhat murky during the time of Obama. Trump did not miss the golden opportunity to name his representatives as well as the key figures in his administration. This would be the most awaited event as it will reflect Trump’s character and attitude towards the outside world particularly the Muslim World. Foreign Policy magazine is expecting that Trump will bring the mindset of 911 back to the world with the agenda of “War on Terror” dominating the plan.

The world may still be traumatised during the days when America was ruled by the Neo-Con through the Bush Junior administration. The Muslim world is still traumatized by the accusations of being the terrorists to 9/11 event which was deliberately designed and planned. The invasion of Iraq was made due to a false narrative that there were weapons of mass destruction in Iraq which was very synonym to the Islamic World. Israel certainly wants to continue to maintain its power and stability of Israel. Hence, West Asia will be dominated by the United States in any possible ways.

The world will continue to feel anxious as we approach POTUS which is its foreign policy.
